EMPIRICISM AND SOCIOLOGY

Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer Netherlands | On the last day of his life, Otto Neurath had given help to a Chinese philosopher who was writing about Schlick. Only an hour before his death he said to me: "Nobody will do such a thing for me." My answer then was: "Never mind, you have Bilston, isn't that better?" There were consultations in new housing schemes, an exhibition, and hopes for a fruitful relationship of longer duration. I did not dream at that time that I would one day work on a book like this. The idea came from Horace M. Kallen, of the New School for Social Research, New York, years later; to encourage me he sent me his selection from William James's writings. Later I met Robert S. Cohen. Carnap had sent him to me with the message: "If you want to find out what my political views were in the twenties and thirties, read Otto Neurath's books and articles of that time; his views were also mine." In this way Robert Cohen became acquainted with Otto Neurath. Even more: he became interested; and when I asked him, would he help me as an editor of an Otto Neurath volume, he agreed at once. In previous years I had already asked a number of Otto Neurath's friends to write down for me what they especially remembered about him. | 1. Memories of Otto Neurath.- 1. Otto Neurath's Parents; the Father's autobiographical sketch.- 2. Otto Neurath's Childhood, from autobiographical notes.- 3. University Days, contributed by Marie Neurath.- 4. Military Life, contributed by G. Neumann.- 5. A Teacher of Political Economy, from N. Y. Ben-Gavriel.- 6. Excerpts from Ernst Lakenbacher.- 7. From Wolfgang Schumann.- 8. Autobiographical Excerpts from Otto Neurath.- 9. Munich 1919 and Later, from Ernst Niekisch.-...
