RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 48 pages. LC Number: KF27 . B8 2007p OCLC Number: (OCoLC)192003785 Subject: Taxpayer compliance -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ime funds are diverted from their intended purpose or taxpayers fail to pay what they owe, cynicism in government increases, legitimate beneficiaries are harmed and our shared sense of community is diminished. In 2006, according to information reported to OMB, federal agencies made over 40 billion in improper payments. Similarly, the tax gap (that is the gap between taxes owed and those collected) is approaching 345 billion a year. If only a fraction of these costs could be recovered, we would make a significant dent in the federal deficit and begin to make room for needed and long neglected investments in our nations future. To this end, the 2008 budget resolution contains appropriation cap adjustments for four programs that account for a significant share of improper payments and unpaid taxes. These include: the Health Care Fraud and Abuse program, Continuing Disability Reviews and SSI Redeterminations, IRS Tax Compliance, and Unemployment Insurance improper payment reviews. This is the first Congress in years that has taken a comprehensive approach to program integrity issues and included full funding for these critical enforcement initiatives. The objectives of our hearing today are to better understand the sources and extent of improper payments and tax noncompliance, how federal agencies intend to use their additional enforcement resources, the return on investment that can be anticipated from this initiative, and what additional changes Congress should consider to further cut down on wasted spending. . We will begin with Secretary Leavitt who has taken on this issue as a personal challenge. Earlier this year Secretary Leavitt shared with Congressman Ryan and me, some very interesting observations..
